Basically I have multiple (n) table (t1, t2, ..., tn) and I would like to select data from them all in one shot and then using Java code to iterate over that data. I'm a very beginner Java programmer and I've never dealt with SQL so I don't know if this is possible. All I need is to be able to select everything from multiple tables at once without the data being shown in a specific order. Is there a way to do that? I'm using mysql. Thanks. A: Have you looked at JOIN in MySQL? SELECT * FROM (t1, t2, ..., tn) Of course, you can't use SELECT * in your Java code, but this would be a starting point. Image caption The Roast Busters stars say they have to work out how to get by on $24 a day It's not just the music industry's massive debt that's going to be its downfall - it's also the lack of income from their latest album. The latest film from the pop punk band The Roast Busters, a party boy band featuring seven of the Top 20 NZ Music Charts, is opening in cinemas tonight and only has one of their songs in it. "We are so broke," says 22-year-old Blaine Kenny. "When we were writing the album, we were thinking, 'If we release an album and it doesn't do well, we'll be broke for a year or two.'" So if we are broke now, I don't know what we're going to do when our album doesn't do well." Image caption The film, which was made to promote their debut album, also includes a musical number and dialogue In their latest movie, the NZ teenagers from Auckland struggle to get by on a measly $24 a day while their "revolution" takes place on a beach, living in a tree house, and holding meetings in a graveyard. Despite the film-makers having the entire song on it, the group won't release it as a single because they'd rather it be seen as a part of the film, rather
