Free Youtube Downloader Crack Product Key PC/Windows

===== Free Youtube Downloader is a straightforward, yet efficient application that serves to download online video files locally, preserving the quality of the original clips as much as possible. The need for such a software is more or less obvious (considering the popularity of similar applications) and that is offline use. Users with slow Internet connections often find themselves in the impossibility to watch online videos, thus an application of this sort can be a real game changer. Free Youtube Downloader not only comes with an intuitive design, appropriate for both beginner and professional users, but it also sports ease of use and efficiency and carries out the task flawlessly. Its inner engine allows you to download content from individual links or to enable the batch mode and grab more clips at the same time. The built-in clipboard sniffer automatically pastes the links inside the main window, so that you don't go through the trouble of doing this yourself. Aside from the video downloader, the application also benefits from a video search feature, which allows you to quickly locate your favorite clips and add them to the download queue instantly. In addition to this, you can also watch the videos before you download them via the built-in clip player. As far as the settings are concerned, you are in for a treat, because this section sports a set of inspired configurations that provide you with full control over the application's behavior. Thus, you can set the computer to turn off when a number of parallel downloads are completed, as well as to customize the format and name of the output files. If you're in an area that has restricted access to online video portals, the application allows you to use a proxy server to access the resources without limits. Considering all of the above, Free Youtube Downloader is definitely a keeper. It is the perfect companion for users that seek to download video content for offline use.
