I have a regular expression to search for a string, regex = re.compile(r'^[^\s,]{1,255}$') Is there a way to include a comma or a space in the regular expression. A: No, the comma and space are special characters in regular expressions. Just not ones you can use in a character class. [^] makes a character class that matches a space or not. You need to make an alternation instead: regex = re.compile(r'^(?:[^\s,]{1,255})$') Tubal ligation in the United States: patterns of care, performance, and circumstances of failure. The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists published the recommendation in 1995 that tubal sterilization should be the sterilizing procedure of choice for women with menstrual-dependent infertility. In this study, we reviewed medical records for 2466 women treated with tubal sterilization in 1998 to determine the current patterns of care, effectiveness of procedures, and circumstances of failure. Of 2466 women identified by the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists Universal Data Set, 65% were identified as non-Hispanic white, 13% non-Hispanic black, and 8% Hispanic, with 53% also having private insurance. Procedures were performed at 2,063 (82%) primary and 403 (18%) secondary sites. Most women (76%) underwent sterilization between 1997 and 2001. Laparoscopic sterilization and bilateral tubal sterilization were performed at 358 (15%) and 2037 (85%) sites, respectively. The overall failure rate was 8.4% (95% confidence interval, 7.7%-9.1
